Keep hearing about blogging in the media and want to know why it's so important?

Are you a business owner, student, developer, professor, or someone interested in having their voice heard online?

Personalized journalism, brand positioning, student-teacher communication, political activism – it's all possible through blogging.

What: LINKING THOUGHTS

A free presentation to give you the 411 on blogging; why it's important and ways that you can benefit from participating.

Who: The Triad Web Meetup and HUUG presents John Ford and Sean Coon

Where: High Point University, Congdon Hall Room 138
